Sherlock Hawkins — Serco SWAT Team Bridge To Fuzzy Con Air Logic For Psycho Soames' Brakes To Spot Fix Princess Di

David "Sherlock" Hawkins has reverse engineered the curious case of the stolen Mercedes Benz S280 which was returned in pristine condition but for the apparent replacement of the on-board chip with Micron Technology Inc's RFID system in communication with vehicle on-board computer Priority date 1996-12-06 2000-08-29 US6112152A Grant and allegedly used in an attempt to spot fix the time of death of Princess Diana after a flash triggered the RFID to lock off the brakes (no skid, only yaw marks) and steer the car into the 13th column of the Pont d'Alma Tunnel in Paris on 31 August 1997.

Hawkins is investigating Serco's apparent deployment of Con Air SWAT teams on the federal bridge certification authority PKI network invented at GCHQ in the early 70s where Jerome H. Lemelson's Prisoner tracking and warning system and corresponding methods US6054928A uses fuzzy logic algorithms to allow elite psychopaths such as Nicholas Soames (White's Club-gambling grandson of Winston Churchill and brother of Serco CEO Rupert Soames) and Kristine 'Con Air' Marcy (sister of Marine Corps whistleblower Field McConnell) to reward Princess Di's spot fixing killers with access to children procured through an online pedophile ring established by Jimmy Savile and Jeffrey Epstein.

Hawkins is investigating Serco's apparent use of QinetiQ North America Inc.'s Social engineering protection appliance US9123027B2 to inject fake news / media plays onto the federal bridge and help the Soames and Marcy (S&M) psychopaths in their continuing

David 'Sherlock' Hawkins, co-founder of Abel Danger with Field McConnell, is developing reverse-engineered CSI storyboards for 3-act radio dramas and/or theatre plays to give injured communities a scene-by-scene analysis of high-value-target or mass-casualty events which appear to be associated with the negligent, wilful, reckless or fraudulent use of patented devices to spot fix the times of deaths and body counts for deadpool operations on the federal bridge certification authority (FBCA) network, originally implemented on public key infrastructure (PKI) to create, manage, distribute, use, store, and revoke digital certificates on the public-key encryption system invented at GCHQ in the early 70s.

3 Internet URL: <https://fpki.idmanagement.gov/ca/>

5 Federal Bridge Certification Authority

6 The FBCA is the Federal Bridge CA 2016.

8 The FBCA is a PKI Bridge or link between the FCPCA and other CAs that 9 comprise the FPKI network and that may operate under comparable but 10 different certificate policies.

11 The FBCA provides a means to map these certificate policies and CAs and allow certificates to validate to the FCPCA root certificate.

12 The CAs with certificates signed by the Federal Bridge CA 2016 are cross-certified.
13 These CAs have established a trust relationship with the FPKI and are audited annually
14 for conformance to the certificate policies. This cross-certification process has 15 extended the reach of the FPKI well beyond the boundaries of the Federal Government.

All Federal PKI Certification Authorities

A CA that is part of the FPKI is called a participating certification authority. Hundreds of participating CAs form the FPKI network.

For historical records, we might label or identify CA systems using a category that shows when the system was established and for what types of communities it is or was used.

We realize all the acronyms and labels may be confusing and welcome your input to help us improve, add information over time, and simplify where needed.

Any CA in the FPKI may be referred to as a Federal PKI CA. The three highest level CAs in the FPKI hierarchy are the FPKI Trust Infrastructure CAs, which are operated and managed by the Federal PKI Management Authority (FPKIMA) Program Office:

- Federal Common Policy Certification Authority
- Federal Bridge Certification Authority
- SHA-1 Federal Root Certification Authority G2

The FCPKA serves as the root and trust anchor for the intermediate and issuing CAs operated by:

- Federal Government Executive Branch Agencies
- State, Local, Tribal, Territorial, and International Governments
